

THE TWO "GENTLEMEN" OF VERONA

CLASSROOM DISCUSSION PROMPTS

DISCUSSION PROMPTS

Prompts provided by David Daniel, Director of Education (and Speed!)

1. Best friends should share everything, even their secrets.
2. It is possible to fall in love with someone at first sight.
3. If my best friend and I fell for the same person, our friendship would survive it.
4. If my best friend and I fell for the same person, I should let them go for it.
5. Romance is more important than friendship.
6. Parents usually know what is best for their children's futures.
7. If a friend acts terribly, it is my job to call them out, not abandon them.
8. Stepping out of your comfort zone is the only way to grow up.
9. I would move to a completely new city for a romantic partner.
10. People rarely change who they really are no matter what happens to them.
11. True love requires sacrificing your wants for someone else.
12. Apologizing sincerely should automatically earn you a second chance.
13. Loyalty to family comes before loyalty to friends.
14. If someone betrays me, I can never truly trust them again.
15. It is okay to break a promise if keeping it will hurt your own happiness.
16. A pet can be a better, more loyal companion than a human friend.
17. Jealousy is a normal and healthy part of dating.
18. Doing something reckless for love is romantic, not foolish.
19. People act completely out of character when they are desperate. It's not who they really are.
20. It is easier to forgive an enemy than to forgive a friend who has betrayed you.
21. Long-distance relationships are doomed to fail.
22. Social status and reputation matter more than personal happiness.
23. Following your heart is always better than following your head.
24. Everyone is capable of doing something terrible under certain circumstances.
25. If someone really loves you, they will accept you exactly as you are.
26. It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all.
27. You can only be forgiven if you pay for what you did.
