CLASSROOM DISCUSSION PROMPTS

DISCUSSION PROMPTS

Prompts provided by David Daniel, Director of Education

1. Taking a wild risk is always better than living a safe life.
2. Money can't buy happiness, but it solves almost every problem.
3. Society places too much pressure on people to get date and get married.
4. It is acceptable to break small rules or lie a little if it makes life more exciting.
5. Wealthy people should share their money with others.
6. I share my money with others.
7. Even if it pays less, being your own boss is always better than working for someone else.
8. Stepping out of your comfort zone for just one day can change your whole outlook on life.
9. It is better to make your own decisions and fail than to let someone else make choices for you.
10. People who are obsessed with saving money miss out on actually living.
11. Young people are often smarter about life than adults.
12. I would prefer to live in a busy, chaotic city over a quiet, peaceful town.
13. If you wait for the "perfect time" to do something, you will wait forever.
14. Dating apps are better than trying to fall in love by chance.
15. Having a sense of humor is the most important trait in a partner or friend.
16. It is okay to do some bad things if it helps everyone involved.
17. Most people spend too much time working and not enough time enjoying life.
18. Pretending to be someone you're not is sometimes necessary to get ahead.
19. True freedom means not caring what other people think of your choices.
20. Stinginess with money usually reflects a stinginess of spirit.
21. Romance is over-hyped; practical compatibility matters much more.
22. Everyone deserves a second chance to "reinvent" themselves no matter their age.
23. It is better to ask for forgiveness than permission.
24. The secret to a happy life is simply living it fully.
25. People only care about money because it protects them from relying on others.
26. Society treats unmarried or older individuals like they are useless.
27. It is okay to use another person as a stepping stone to escape a bad situation.
28. Most people stay in dull or unhappy situations because they are afraid of the world.
29. Having Fun (Yes) or Dealing with Trouble (No) is where you find out who a person truly is.
30. Loneliness is worse than being poor.
